CARE

Effective Care for Pure Beauty

Dear customers,

As a family run German business, we have stood for experience, know-how and quality in the field of cosmetics and wellness for more than 35 years.

The IONTO-COMED brand promotes well-being and care for natural beauty and aesthetics. The IONTO-COMED PROFESSIONAL CARE skincare line was developed with this in mind, enriching, improving and perfecting the care process.

ACTIVE INGREDIENT CONCEPT

EFFECTIVE CARE FOR PURE BEAUTY

Developed for instrument-based applications

We believe it is our task to enrich the technologies developed in-house with suitable preparations tailored to the different equipment. Tolerability, effectiveness and compatibility are at the very heart of our concept. We refuse to use substances that do not do the skin any good. When applied in conjunction with instrument-based cosmetic processes, which help active ingredients to penetrate the skin more deeply and effectively, tolerable skincare free from harmful substances is absolutely essential.

We care about your skin's needs

To this end, we place a particular emphasis on effectiveness: A great deal of effort and care has gone into selecting the ingredients. The active ingredients are innovative and enrich our professional skincare line with optimum concentrations. Scientific studies confirm the effectiveness of these ingredients and their physiological effects on the skin. We care about your skin health and we can honestly say that we both understand and fully satisfy the needs of your skin.

OUTSTANDING SKIN TOLERABILITY

With our professional product line, we do away with parabens and use only the minimum amount necessary of alcohol-based preservatives. We use no scents or perfumes, which generally demonstrate a high allergic potential and are of no benefit to your skin. We also do away with colouring agents which only serves to make the product look better, not your skin. In our products you will find no nanomaterials or PEGs, neither of which has any tangible benefits for our skin. Nor will you find any inexpensive raw materials, such as silicone, mineral oils or softening agents, in the Professional Care preparation line. Our products are dermatologically tested for compatibility and offer you care concepts that are kind to the skin.

MAXIMUM EFFECTIVENESS

When selecting our main active ingredients, we are always careful to use the best and highest possible concentration to ensure that you achieve your personal care goals – both in the instrument-based treatments and your customers' home care. Only the right home care ensures that your customers will maintain the results of their treatment in the long run. The valuable, unaltered active ingredients, which retain their natural structure, demonstrate scientifically proven effects.

UNLIMITED COMPATIBILITY

We use our know-how for your beauty. The PROFESSIONAL CARE product line has a very special effect, especially when used in conjunction with an instrument-based treatment. IONTO-COMED technologies such as ultrasound, radio-frequency, microneedling and microdermabrasion offer synergistic effects when used together with skin care products. The result of a treatment lasts longer with the application of the products. Furthermore, you can offer your customers professional home care when preparing for the instrument-based treatment concepts and during after-care.

CLEAN ACTIVE INGREDIENT CONCEPT

Enriched with an oxygen boost formulation that releases oxygen. The synergistic effects between the components zinc, copper and magnesium activate cell metabolism and neutralize free radicals that can form on the skin as a result of air pollution. Thus this kind of effect makes cleaning thorough and gentle.

→ High level of compatibility, invigorating and thorough cleansing

OXYGEN-TECHNOLOGY

The oxygen released ensures thorough cleansing and gently removes fine dirt particles caused by air pollution.

MAGNESIUM

This trace element works as a catalyst for the cleansing effect and stimulates cell metabolism.

ZINC

This enhances the removal of impurities.

COPPER

This mineral serves as a radical catcher, thereby counteracting the ageing of the skin.

CLEAN CLEANSING FOAM 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>· Oxygen technology</li><li>· Magnesium</li><li>· Zinc</li><li>· Copper</li></ul>	The delicate, velvety cleansing foam does not disintegrate immediately and consists of carefully selected surfactants which cleanse the skin gently, kindly and thoroughly.	For all skin types	Shake the product, put 1-2 pumps of the foam into the moistened palm of your hand then apply to the face. Clean thoroughly using a warm compress or a cosmetic sponge.
CLEAN NEUTRALISING FACE TONIC 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>· Oxygen technology</li><li>· pH buffer system</li></ul>	The face tonic is specially intended to ensure that the pH value of the skin returns to its natural balance as quickly as possible after a cleansing or peeling treatment. It helps maintain the skin's natural protective coating.	For all skin types	Apply 1-2 pumps of the face tonic onto a cotton wool pad after cleansing and spread generously across the face. After applying one of our fruit acid exfoliants: follow the same process twice. ## HYDRATE ACTIVE INGREDIENT CONCEPT

→ High level of compatibility, optimum skin regeneration
by means of ingredients familiar to the skin

Based on substances familiar to the skin, the products are composed of active ingredients which are, for the most part, produced by the body itself or are a constituent element of the skin.

- 1 HYALURONIC ACID
- 2 AMINO ACIDS
- 3 UREA
- 4 ALLANTOIN

HYDRATE ACTIVE INGREDIENT CONCEPT

HYALURONIC ACID

This is a natural skin molecule similar to sugar which is an element of the cell interstices. As the skin ages, production of hyaluronic acids declines and the cell interstices are less abundantly filled. This results in the skin losing its viscoelastic properties. The hyaluronic acids used in the HYDRATE line are both long- and short-chain and thus have a multi-faceted effect: while the short-chain hyaluronic acid replenishes moisture deposits deep in the skin, the long-chain hyaluronic acid is deposited on the surface where it visibly fills wrinkles resulting from dryness.

→ Regulation of wrinkles resulting from dryness, improved skin elasticity and tonicity, replenishment of moisture deposits in the skin

AMINO ACIDS

The NMF (natural moisturising factor) of our skin largely consists of amino acids. By adding natural amino acids with an unaltered structure, the HYDRATE line improves the composition of our natural NMF, regenerating a fully-intact skin barrier. Amino acids stimulate anabolic processes inside cells, thereby ensuring a positive impact on collagen formation in the skin.

→ Containment of moisture loss from the skin, support for the skin's protective barrier, regenerative reconstruction from within

UREA

Urea has the particularity of storing several times its own weight in moisture. Consequently, urea can – in the right concentration – curb trans-epidermal water loss from the skin and prevent visible signs of dryness.

→ Soft skin, firmer complexion, regulation of wrinkles resulting from dryness

ALLANTOIN

Allantoin relieves skin irritations, promotes cell regulation and is, in general, extremely well tolerated. Rough, dry skin is made soft and smooth.

→ Calms and counters irritations, promotes cell regulation

COMBINE ACTIVE INGREDIENT CONCEPT

The chemical exfoliants contain two AHAs (alpha hydroxy acids*), which keratolytically** peel and refine the skin, eliminate impurities, reduce wrinkles and enhance radiance. The fruit exfoliants are all-rounders and can be incorporated individually into the treatment concepts.

→ Cell renewal, refinement of the complexion, enhanced radiance

GLYCOLIC ACID

Derived from sugar cane, the molecule is small and water-soluble (hydrophilic) with a strong keratolytic (exfoliant) effect.

MANDELIC ACID

Mandelic acid has a balancing effect on skin tone and, due to its hydrophobic (water-repellent) property, can also successfully combat impurities.

*Alpha hydroxy acids = carboxylic acids which have a hydroxy group (-OH) positioned on their alpha carbon. The acids are primarily obtained from fruit and have a peeling effect on skin.

**Keratolytic = corneal dissolving

ENZYME POWDER

Illustration: Enzyme powder

PAPAIN

This is obtained from papaya and divides the connection between the skin cells (cell interstices), efficiently removing the upper skin layers.

RICE STARCH

Rice starch has an absorptive effect and gently absorbs removed skin particles and impurities from the surface of the skin.

VITAMIN E

This smooths the skin and has an antioxidant effect. Vitamin E therefore also acts as a radical catcher and helps resist the extrinsic (caused by external factors) skin ageing process.

COMBINE ACTIVE INGREDIENT CONCEPT

The enzymes contained in the powder offer a kind of beauty sleep. The enzymatic effect is activated by the application of water.

BIO-CELLULOSE

The IONTO-COMED high-quality Bio-Cellulose masks consist of a nanofiber that is smaller than the pore size of the epidermis and has a high penetration rate. This allows it to introduce active ingredients deeper into the skin. The breathable Bio-Cellulose mask with fine tissue structure has a high absorption capacity and can continuously provide the air and nutrients needed for the skin. This precious raw material is 100% biodegradable and biocompatible and its structure enables it to keep the skin constantly moist during the exposure time. The Bio-Cellulose mask soothes, relaxes and reduces the skin redness. The skin elasticity is further improved and visible signs of skin aging are reduced.

PROFESSIONAL CARE

35

Professional active ingredient preparations have been available for some time, whether manually or by instrument based cosmetic treatment. Selective cosmetic products with high concentration of active ingredients provide an everlasting improvement and at the same time offer a feeling of skin enrichment. Ampoules with high concentration of active substances are often used as small power packages for a large number of problems. The ampoules have been used for many years with lots of success in the practice and are very useful to convince the users on the basis of their active effect and good price-performance ratio.
