Hydrasilk - The best skin care for sensitive skin

The soothing power of silk and white tea

The skin is the mirror of what is going on inside us. These internal processes are also reactions to all external influences to which we are exposed and how we react to them both physically and psychologically.

Signs of sensitive, irritated, allergy-prone and environmentally stressed skin can be manifold. Symptoms include redness, itching, dryness, burning or tightness. The skin can react sensitively to external stimuli such as chemical ingredients in cosmetics, environmental pollution, temperature fluctuations or UV radiation. Allergic reactions such as rashes, swelling or blisters can occur, especially when in contact with known allergens such as certain foods or plants. Irritated skin can also be irritated due to excessive cleansing or aggressive skin care products. It is important to care for the skin carefully and avoid irritating substances to prevent further damage.

The être belle Sensiplus+ skincare range relies on carefully selected natural active ingredients. Precious silk proteins provide light, moisturizing care and improve the skin's structure in the long term. The precious white tea also has strong antioxidant properties to reduce skin damage. Both are gentle enough for sensitive skin and soothe irritation while providing protection against environmental stress.

BENEFITS

- Reduction of irritation, redness and itching
- Relief from feelings of tension
- Immediately noticeable suppleness
- Stimulation of the skin's own self-healing powers
- Strengthening the skin's own resistance
